I am currently a BA student and student editor, seeking a position as a proofreader, writer, or that of an editorial nature (preferably an editorial internship).

I have experience with tutoring (English HL and Afrikaans FAL), as well as leadership positions of an editorial nature. I have also volunteered at numerous local events and believe I hone exceptional qualities of diligence, integrity, respect, and kindness. My passion for writing and reading has nurtured my skills in editing of an online student magazine, a blog, and other private essays.
